

March fifth,
1942.

Dr. Ernst Simmel,
555 Wilcox Avenue,
Los Angeles, Calif.

Dear Dr. Simmel:

It was very kind of you to send on Jones' book. I wanted to make a digest of one of his essays and my own copy is still in London. (We ordered our household goods shipped from storage there months ago but they still have not taken passage.)

Mrs. Hopkins would join me in kindest regards to Mrs. Simmel and yourself. We have been planning to ask you over to dinner here one of these days and hope to arrange it soon.

Sincerely yours,

Pryns Hopkins
Pryns Hopkins

PH:cl

J. L.